Sew and Share Special Edition—Library Quilt Challenge—The Next Chapter

Our Sew and Share will have two parts this month! We work hard on our quilts so let's show them off. Let's take pride in our quilting accomplishments and inspire others! Part one is our regular Sew and Share. Bring a quilt or two to show members. Be prepared to say a few words about the quilt(s) as it is being shown off.

AS WELL PART 2: A WONDERFUL RECAP OF OUR GUILD'S LIBRARY BOOK CHALLENGE!!!!

Can you believe how many quilts were made for this year's Library Challenge? With over two dozen quilts ranging in size from tote bags and wall-hangings to full-size bed quilts, you simply outdid yourselves. However, with such a storied line-up and full schedule at the April meeting, there simply wasn't enough space and time to showcase your hard work, creativity and quilting endeavours, which was disappointing for many.

Now it's time to turn the page so we're adding another chapter to our quilt challenge! We want you to bring your quilts to the May meeting so that we can do a quilt parade and you can share your quilt's story. Let's write that wrong and get the word out about the talent, imagination and artistry of our quilting community. So book May 14 th on your calendar and bring your challenge items. We know you've got the write stuff!

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE—How Does Your Quilt Stash Grow?—Diane Grover

The Mother Goose nursery rhyme, Mary asks how does her garden grow. I love May as it signals the start of gardening season, though it's taken a long time to get my garden established. I first had to understand how the light was different between the north-east facing front yard and sun-drenched back. I've had to learn what wildlife frequents the area and which plants grow best with each other. In fact, even now, I still make changes and adapt to my needs, evolving taste and the availability of plants.

Creating a garden is very similar to curating my fabric stash. In the beginning, I had to learn how much fabric to buy, what colours worked best together and whether I needed to round out my palette. When my tastes changed, my fabric collection subtly shifted to reflect a more sophisticated style. As quilting has embraced a wider range of fabrics such as linen and shot cottons, as well as different printing techniques, my approach to buying fabric and quilting has had to keep up. Just like planting marigolds and tomatoes together is mutually beneficial, combining fibers and textures is now encouraged. I can grow my plants from seed or buy them already underway, much the same way I can cut my own fabric or buy precuts. I also give away some of my plants, as I do with excess fabric from stash. And with an increased emphasis on environmental stewardship, I see parallels in what flowers I plant and what fibers I acquire.

In fact, my fabric stash is a garden, planting the seed of inspiration that will eventually grow into a bounty of quilts.

INTERGUILD DIRECTORY—YOUR INPUT IS NEEDED!!!—Rhonda and Susan

In the quilt guilds of Eastern Ontario we have a number of talented quilters who teach workshops and/or present trunk shows. Wouldn't it be wonderful to have a listing of those presenters and be able to share this information among our interguild?

Please help us with this undertaking. Please have those members that can do trunk shows or presentations or workshops fill out this form. Please click on this link below to load the form that is used to collect information for quilt guild presenters.

COMMUNITY PROJECTS STASHBUSTER ! - Lynn Bradley and Maria Fleming

Community Projects is having a ~~De-Stash~~ Stash Buster Event at the May 14th Guild meeting.

- Want to try a new pattern?
- Want to try a new colour combo?
- Always wanted to try making a cuddle quilt?

Here's your opportunity!!!

Tables will be set up with fabrics grouped by yardage (Yards, not metres). There will also be a limited amount of pre-cut batting (cuddle to crib sizes).

So, come with shopping bags, pattern ideas, and maybe a measuring tape.

For pattern selection, here are our clients' preferred sizes:

- Cuddle quilts - 22" square
- Kids quilts - from crib to twin - 40" x 40" to 60" x 72" (older teens may be tall)
- Adult quilts - twin (60" x 72") to queen
- Wheelchair quilts - 36" x 36" to 36" x 40"

Once fabric choices are made, pick up an entry form for each quilt you plan to return before December 10 guild meeting. Pin the form to the quilt, and turn in to Community Projects table. Each form will be a chance to win a draw prize.

QUILTERS RECYCLING TABLE

With the return to an in-person Guild meeting in April, the Quilter's Recycling Table – a.k.a. the Giveaway Table - will be back! Bring in the fruits of your spring cleaning and de-cluttering of your sewing space over the winter. Others will make good use of your items!

QUILT SHOW JUDGING—Janice Namiesniowski

Ever wonder what a Quilt Judge would say about your quilt? The quilt that you laboured long and hard over, with blood, sweat, tears, time and money? You might ask; “why would I even think of inviting a professional to comment/give criticism on my quilting skills?

Simple answer is; because critiques are a valuable tool in your journey as a quilter.

Now, should you ever get brave enough to submit your quilt in a juried quilt show (i.e. QuiltCon, OMQG, CQA), you will receive an accept or reject letter from the Jury with no feedback. How will we every learn what a judge thinks of our quilt?

Yes, our friends and families have opinions, comments and critiques; but are they objective? Maybe. Are they “expert” in all facets of quilt composition? Most likely not.

You have a rare opportunity at the upcoming Common Thread Quilt Show 2024.

If you decide to enter your quilt in the 2024 Common Thread Quilt Show, you can choose to have your quilt submitted for a judging critique with the a certified CQA Quilt Judge. For only $10.00 per quilt. Be assured that the resulted commentary is held in confidence with the judge & scribe and you (mailed to you via post). As Kirstin Fearon said in 2022, “You are getting objective advice. The judge is always looking for the best in your quilt, they will give you the good things you did with your quilt, and help you with some of those things that you cannot quite put your finger on something beautiful and functional. If you want to get some guidance on where you can dig a bit deeper into quilting, the judge’s critique can help you with it.”

How to do this:

Simply Click on the “Judging Requested” box on the 2024 Quilt Registration Form on the CTQG website.

IN TOWN RETREATS

Hello Quilters!

In April we had our last two in-town retreats of the year! Sew much fun! Stay tuned for information about next year in the upcoming newsletters.

REVISED CTQG CONSTITUTION

All CTQG members will receive an email in a few weeks with a proposed revision to the Guild Constitution. This revised Constitution will be discussed and voted on by the membership at the June meeting. The proposed changes will be highlighted so members can see what is being proposed.

Revisions to the Guild Constitution were undertaken to meet the Ontario Government's legislation for NGOs. The deadline to comply with the legislation is October 2024. Our Guild is registered under Ontario Corporations Act, Not-for-Profit.

There were a number of technical changes: switching "Articles" and "ByLaws" and "Officers" and "Directors" to conform with legislation. Some language was changed to make it more flexible: "regular" instead of "monthly".

This is also a chance to review and change some ways we run our Guild. The draft that will be circulated has been discussed and approved by the Executive, and will be circulated to all members.

If you have questions or would like to discuss parts of the constitution, please reach out to Laura Evans, ctqg.past.president@gmail.com.

There will be vendors of yard goods, and sewing notions, a bustling marketplace where one can get their holiday shopping done, many gorgeous locally made quilts, home accessories, raffle items and a chance to win a basket by filling out the Quinte Quilters Quiz.

Belleville is located in the Quinte area. The Quinte area is a beautiful area with many restaurants, hiking trails, 2 provincial parks nearby (Presqu'île PP and Sandbanks PP), shopping, hotels, museums (Glanmore National Historic Site, National Air Force Museum, Quinte Museum of Natural History) and beautiful quilt stores (2 locations of Kraft Village, and Artistic Quilts with Colors). Come to our quilt show, and stay for a little holiday .

Kingston is less than an hour away, with another two quilt stores (Stitch by Stitch and Homemade), and we are along the 401 corridor which will take you to many more shops.

Belleville is also next door to Prince Edward County – home of many beautiful vineyards and wineries. Fine cuisine and lovely boutiques can be found in the county. PEC is a very popular get-away place.

We would greatly appreciate it if you would pass along this info about our show to your Guild Members, and we hope to welcome many of you on May 10th and 11th. Also, feel free to forward information about any upcoming shows or events you are hosting, and we would happily return the favour!

 The graphic features a colorful geometric quilt pattern in shades of teal, orange, and green. On the left, a list of activities is presented on a light blue brushstroke background. A starburst icon highlights the $10 admission price. In the center, a sewing machine is depicted with a quilted body. To the right, the event title "Still STITCHING TOGETHER" is written in a mix of fonts, with "Still" in cursive and "STITCHING TOGETHER" in bold block letters.
